For Sale : € 165,000

Description
Open green space runs along one side of this residential plot in Kornos, and the land enjoys an attractive view of the surrounding area. Around it, open parcels sit among scattered homes, giving a residential setting with plenty of breathing room and a strong sense of village life close at hand.

The ground is flat and neatly rectangular, which makes it simple to plan on, with room for a home of up to two floors. A generous frontage gives the land direct road access, and there is the potential to connect electricity, water and telecommunications.

Picture a home set on level ground, with the green area as a neighbour and that view of the surrounding area to enjoy each day. The village centre is a short drive away, and the Limassol–Nicosia motorway is easy to reach for trips further afield.

A well-shaped, level plot beside public green space, with room to build a home in Kornos.
