Description
Ypsonas gives business land a practical home within the Limassol district. The area has easy links to the Limassol–Paphos Motorway, and the Castle of Kolossi is a drive away, so local heritage sits alongside everyday commerce. This field sits within that setting and offers ground for a working future. Its zoning is industrial, a use that points plainly to business, workshops or premises suited to that kind of activity. The zoning also includes a protection zone, which restricts use of the land it covers. For a local business looking to plant roots in Ypsonas, this is ground where work and connections can grow together, in an area that keeps both the coast road and its history close.
