Village life begins right at the edge of this sizeable field...

For Sale : € 154,000

Description
Village life begins right at the edge of this sizeable field in Polemi. The village centre is only a short walk away, cafés and restaurants sit next door, and the local schools can be reached on foot.

The land covers 2,676 m² in a residential zone and has direct road access along its frontage. Residential developments already shape the neighbourhood around it, with a few parcels of land still to be built on. Planning allows a home of up to two floors here.

Picture the life this setting offers. A morning coffee is a few steps from your gate, the school run is made on foot, and the village square is close enough for an easy evening stroll. Beyond Polemi, the neighbouring villages of Psathi and Stroumpi are a short drive away.

This is room for a home built your way, set within a living village rather than at its edge, with the everyday pleasures of Polemi close at hand.
