Description
Two fields in Geri, Nicosia, together cover 3,457 m² in an area of detached and semi-detached homes. Each field fronts the road, so both have direct road access. Electricity, water and telecommunications can be connected to the land.

The smaller field lies in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. The larger field falls within a special planning zone. Latsia is a short drive away, and the Nicosia–Limassol motorway is easy to reach. Together, the two fields form a sizeable piece of land set among Geri's residential streets.
