Description
Sea views and a setting within Pegeia itself give this sizeable residential field its appeal. Homes and open parcels of land surround it, and restaurants, cafés and green spaces are within walking distance, so village life is part of everyday living here.

The field covers 2,272 m² of residential land, with room for a home of up to two floors. The ground slopes and the shape is irregular. It has direct road access along a long frontage, and water, electricity and telecommunication services can be brought in. Shops, schools and a medical centre are a short drive away.

Picture an evening here with the sea in view, then a short stroll down to a village café for dinner. Few plans are needed to imagine a home on this land. The Maa Palaeokastro archaeological site and museum is also a short drive away for unhurried weekend outings.

An honest, inviting piece of land, where the sea fills the view and the village is never far away.
