For Sale : € 127,000

Description
Cafés, restaurants and village shops lie within walking distance of this residential plot in Prodromi, while the beaches and the fishing shelter at Latchi are only a short drive away. Polis itself is close at hand too, so daily life here can move easily between errands on foot and long afternoons by the water.

The land measures 755 m² and sits in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. It has direct road access along its frontage, which makes it simple to reach and to plan around. Open parcels of land mingle with scattered homes and holiday developments in the surrounding area, giving it an open, uncrowded feel. Paphos International Airport is about 35 km away.

Picture mornings that begin with coffee in the village, a swim before lunch, and evenings at home in a house designed around the way you want to live. Here, practical everyday living and the Mediterranean rhythm of life by the sea sit comfortably side by side, ready for a new chapter to take shape.
