Description
Village life in Nikitari sets the tone for this field of 7,693 m², a sizeable piece of residential land among homes and open, undeveloped plots. The village centre, its schools and its restaurants and cafés are a short drive away, and so is the heritage site of Panagia tis Asinou, one of the treasures of this part of the countryside.

The land has an irregular shape and a smooth, gentle slope, with frontage along a footpath on one side. Its residential zoning leaves room for a home of up to two floors, and water, electricity and telecommunications can potentially be connected.

Picture a home set into the gentle fall of the land, with everyday village life close at hand and green spaces a short drive away. For longer days outdoors, the Solea Reservoir is a drive away too.

An authentic alternative to city or resort living: generous land, a residential setting and the character of Nikitari all around.
