For Sale : € 94,000

Description
Just beyond Tsada village, this residential plot lies among homes and open parcels of land. It is a setting where a private residence of your own could take shape, with the village close enough to feel part of daily life.

The land covers 807 m² and has direct road access along one boundary. Its residential zoning allows for a home of up to two floors, so there is room to plan a house that fits the way you want to live.

Everyday life is easy to picture here. Mornings start with a short drive to the village centre for coffee and errands, and The International School of Paphos is also a short drive away. Afternoons end back on your own patch of Tsada, among the houses and open land of a residential neighbourhood still taking shape.

A practical, well-proportioned plot with road access, ready for the home you have in mind, in a village setting near Paphos.
