Description
Set in open countryside outside Politiko, not far from Tamasos reservoir, this agricultural field covers 34,114 m². Undeveloped parcels of land surround it, which gives the area a plain rural character away from built-up streets. The centre of Politiko is a short drive away, as is the neighbouring village of Kampia.

The land is zoned for agricultural use and can be farmed or planted. It has no direct road access. This is a sizeable stretch of farmland in the Politiko countryside.
