For Sale : € 89,000

Description
In the village of Ergates, among family homes and open parcels of land, this residential plot is the start of a house shaped entirely around your own plans. Instead of adapting to someone else's layout, you set the priorities from the very first sketch.

The land offers 997 m² of residential ground, with room for a home of up to two floors. It has direct road access along one side, so getting onto the site is simple from the outset.

Parks and green spaces are within walking distance, a pleasant thought for an evening stroll once the house is finished. The village centre is a short drive away, keeping the everyday close without crowding the setting.

A plot in a residential neighbourhood, with space and freedom to build the home you have in mind.
