For Sale : € 74,000

Description
In the community of Trimiklini, among small housing developments of good quality and condition, this residential plot is an unpretentious setting for a private home. The neighbourhood has a settled, residential character, shaped by homes that are well kept.

The land extends to 1,147 m² in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. It abuts a registered road, so it has direct road access, and the main roads of the area are easy to reach. Starting from your own plot means you can set your design priorities from the outset and shape a house around the way you want to live.

Daily errands stay simple, with the village centre a short drive away. Troodos National Forest Park is also a short drive from here, close enough for an unhurried afternoon among the trees.

A home of your own can take shape here, with village life and the forest park both within easy reach.
