Description
Village life in Stroumpi sets the scene for this residential field in the Paphos district. It lies close to the village centre, with supermarkets and shops within walking distance, so the small errands of the day can be done on foot. Around it, homes stand alongside undeveloped parcels of land, giving the neighbourhood a settled residential character.

The land covers 1,349 m² and fronts roads along two of its borders, giving it direct road access. Its residential zoning offers room for a home of up to two floors, with the space to plan the layout you have in mind.

Picture a family home rising here, with morning bread from the nearby shops and the village centre just around you. For a local household, it offers the chance to put down roots in a familiar setting. For someone from further afield, it is a way into the everyday rhythm of a Paphos village.

A residential field, a welcoming village and room to build a home of your own in the heart of Stroumpi.
