For Sale : € 59,000

Description
Kelokedara's village centre lies a short drive from this residential field, set on the edge of the community among homes and open parcels of land. It is a setting where village life stays close and the pace of the day follows the place around it.

At 3,345 m², the land gives a new home generous room around it. It sits within a residential zone, where a house of up to two floors may be built, and it has direct road access along its frontage. A single sizeable plot like this leaves space to think about how a home would sit on it.

Picture a house of your own here, with the neighbouring villages of Agia Marina Kelokedaron and Trachypedoula a short drive away and Paphos International Airport about 15 km off for journeys abroad. For an afternoon out, the Sanctuary of the Paphian Aphrodite is within a drive.

Generous land, a residential neighbourhood and Kelokedara close at hand: room to shape a home around the way you want to live.
