Description
Marathounta's village centre lies close by, and with it the everyday rhythm of village life. This field of 837 m² sits in a residential neighbourhood where open parcels of land share the surroundings with a few homes, giving the area a relaxed, unhurried character.

The residential zoning offers room for a home, with up to two floors allowed. Picture a house of your own here, close to the heart of the village, shaped around the way you want to live.

The village of Armou is a short drive away, as is The International School of Paphos, so the wider Paphos area stays within easy reach for daily needs. The land has no direct road access.

A straightforward plot of residential land in Marathounta, close to the village centre, with room to imagine a home of your own.
