For Sale : € 48,000

Description
Close to Palaiometocho village, among family homes and open parcels of land, this residential plot of 550 m² offers room for a home shaped entirely around you. It is a setting where everyday life feels settled and close at hand, with the village around you and the countryside never far away.

The residential zoning allows for a home of up to two floors, so you can think about how the rooms will sit, where the living space will open up and which materials and finishes will make it yours. The land has direct road access along one side, which makes it simple to reach for both planning and daily life.

The village centre, schools and supermarkets are a short drive away, so the school run and the weekly shop fit easily into the day. When the weekend comes, the nature spot of Lefkovounos is also within a short drive, offering a change of scene without a long journey.

A plot in a residential neighbourhood close to the village, with a home on two floors yours to design from the start.
