Description
Close to the heart of Pigenia, with the sea not far away, this field of 866 m² sits in an unpretentious village setting where open parcels of land mix with several residential developments. Village life is close at hand, and the wider area has the easy rhythm of the countryside near the coast.

The land is zoned for residential use, which means room for a home of up to two floors. Picture a house shaped to your own plans, in a village where everyday comforts are a short drive away and the neighbouring villages of Mosfili and Agios Theodoros Tillirias are close by.

Further afield, Pomos Reservoir is within a drive for an afternoon by the water and among the green landscapes of the region. The land has no direct road access.

A residential plot near the village centre, with the coast close by, ready for a home to be imagined on it.
