For Sale : € 15,900

Description
In a residential part of Orounta, set among family homes and a few open parcels, this compact field offers room for a home of your own. Picture a house rising on this patch of land, with neighbours' homes around it and the everyday life of Orounta close at hand.

The land is zoned for residential use, and a home of up to three floors may be built here. It meets the road on two of its sides, giving it direct road access from both ends, a practical advantage when planning the layout of a new home.

Orounta's primary school lies close by, so the school run could be a short and simple part of the day. Peristerona is a short drive away, and so are the supermarkets and shops for the weekly round.

It is a modest plot with a clear purpose: a place to build a home among homes, with road access on two sides and the local school close by.
