Description

Small Development and High-Value Living

This 325 sqm residential plot in Kaimakli represents a strategic entry point for investors and first-time builders looking to capitalize on Nicosia's shifting urban landscape. Falling within the Kα3 planning zone, the property allows for a four-storey residential or mixed-use building reaching a height of 17 meters. With a high building density of 140% and a coverage factor of 50%, this site is perfectly scaled for a boutique apartment project. As central Nicosia prices continue to rise in 2026, Kaimakli has emerged as a key destination for young professionals and students seeking value without sacrificing proximity to the city center. This demand translates into a resilient investment profile, a trend we have monitored through 3 decades of experience.
