Description
Space is the great luxury of city life, and this field in Agia Fylaxis, Limassol offers plenty of it. Here are 12,375 m² of residential land within Limassol Municipality, a sizeable holding in a convenient urban setting. The sloping ground gives the land a natural character, and its residential zoning points to a home surrounded by room to breathe.

Everyday life is well served from here. Schools, a park and a bus station are all a short drive away. Main roads and motorway junctions are close by too, with both the Limassol–Paphos and Limassol–Saittas motorways within easy reach, linking the neighbourhood with the rest of the island.

The land does not front a road directly. Its appeal lies in its size and setting: an uncomplicated, versatile canvas in one of Limassol's established quarters.

This is land with a long horizon, offering a generous stretch of residential ground with the city and its everyday conveniences all around it.
