Description
Pissouri's beaches are just a short drive from this sizeable field, set in a quiet area outside the village. The village centre, with its restaurants, cafés and shops, is also a short drive away, so the pleasures of coastal Limassol stay close while the land keeps its calm.

At 7,693 m², the field has an irregular shape and a largely even surface, with a slight change in level along one edge. It lies in a touristic zone that allows residences and tourist complexes of houses, and possibly hotel units. That leaves plenty of scope for shaping a plan around this setting. Access is along a dirt track.

Parks and green spaces are within walking distance, and Paphos International Airport is about 20 km away. Imagine a home or a small cluster of holiday houses here, with an unhurried village rhythm on one side and the coast close by on the other.

A generous piece of land in a quiet corner of Pissouri, with the sea never far from mind.
