For Sale : € 335,000

Description
On the edge of Paphos, this field in Anavargos offers open land in a residential zone, with the life of the town only a short drive away. Schools, supermarkets, shops and cafés are all close at hand, and the International School of Paphos is a few minutes along the road.

The land has an irregular shape and sloping ground, and it enjoys direct road access. Its residential zoning points to its natural use as the setting for a home, with room to think about how a house might sit on the land.

Getting around is uncomplicated. Main roads and a junction onto the Limassol to Paphos motorway are nearby, and a bus station makes trips into the centre easy. The town's character is close too, with the Paphos Archaeological Museum and the old Ottoman Hamam within a short drive, alongside the everyday convenience of a lively Mediterranean town.

This sale is for a one-third share of the land.

Residential land with direct road access in Anavargos, close to the schools, shops and heritage of Paphos, is a setting with a great deal to offer.
