For Sale : € 95,000

Description
Close to the village centre and church of Agios Theodoros, this residential field sits within the everyday rhythm of a Larnaca district community. It offers village life on your doorstep, with familiar streets and neighbours a few minutes away.

The land covers 4,683 m² of smooth, even ground. Its residential zoning means room for a home, a place to plan around the life of the village rather than apart from it. The shape is irregular, so any design will follow its outline. The land has no direct road access.

The wider area carries a long story. The Neolithic settlement of Choirokoitia, one of the island's best-known heritage sites, lies a short drive away, and the villages of Kofinou and Skarinou are close by. Shops and schools are also a short drive from the village.

A residential field on gentle ground near the heart of Agios Theodoros, with the church and village centre close at hand.
