For Sale : € 150,000

Description
Village life in Anogyra stays close at hand from this large residential field, set only a short way from the heart of the community. The everyday rhythm of the village sits close by, and the neighbouring village of Agios Thomas is a short drive away.

Across 10,703 m², the land lies on a slope and follows an irregular outline, giving it a natural, unforced character. Its residential zoning means room for a home here, shaped around the lie of the land and the village around it.

This is a place to picture a life rooted in a Limassol village, with the community centre near enough to feel part of it. For travel further afield, Paphos International Airport is about 20 km away. Access to the land is by an unregistered road.

A sizeable piece of residential land on the edge of Anogyra village life, with the space to plan a home at your own pace.
