Description
Pissouri, in the Limassol district, is the setting for this sizeable residential field of 3,884 m². It offers a place to put down roots in village life, with the village centre a short drive away and restaurants and cafés within easy reach for slow evenings out. Residential zoning gives room for a home on generous land. The ground slopes and has an irregular shape, so any plans will work with the lie of the land rather than a flat, uniform plot. Along one boundary the field abuts a road, giving direct road access. Getting to and from the area is simple. Paphos International Airport is about 20 km away, convenient for trips abroad and for welcoming visitors. Everyday errands, from shopping to schools, can be handled with a short drive. A large piece of residential land in Pissouri, with direct road access and space to picture the home you have in mind.
