For Sale : € 120,000

Description
Pissouri's village centre, with its cafés and restaurants, is only a short drive from this large residential field, and the local beaches are just as close. Village life and days by the sea both stay comfortably within reach, and Paphos International Airport lies about 20 km away.

The land stretches across 8,646 m² of irregular, sloping ground in a residential zone, and it is reached by an unregistered road. Its slope and generous size give it a character of its own, a broad piece of Pissouri to walk and get to know at an unhurried pace.

The field lies in a zone of increased geological risk, where new construction is not recommended.

What remains is a sizeable stretch of land in a Limassol village, with the beaches and the village centre never far away.
