Description
Three adjoining fields on sloping countryside in Polemi come together as one agricultural holding of 22410 m². Sold as a single property, they give a generous area of land for farming or planting in an open countryside setting.

The land is irregular in shape and has direct road access along part of its boundary. The village centre, the neighbouring villages of Psathi and Thrinia, and a petrol station are a short drive away. The Limassol–Paphos Motorway is within a drive. This is a versatile piece of agricultural land, with real size and direct road access.
