For Sale : € 35,000

Description
Green hillsides, village life and a beautiful natural environment set the scene for this residential field in Alona, a community in the Nicosia district with a strong local identity. With 2,527 m² to work with, it offers real space for a home that sits close to the landscape rather than hemmed in by dense development.

The land has direct road access. Its irregular shape and uneven surface give it an honest, natural character that rewards a thoughtful design. Zoned for residential use, it is a setting where a home can follow the land rather than fight it.

Daily needs are a short drive away: the village centre, supermarkets and shops, schools, cafés and restaurants, medical centres and pharmacies. The neighbouring villages of Alithinou and Platanistasa are close by too, with main roads and bus stations in the wider region.

For anyone drawn to authentic Cypriot village life, Alona offers a slower pace and a close-knit community, with a generous piece of residential land surrounded by nature.
