Description
A short stroll from the heart of the village, this residential field on the market in Pigenia, Cyprus, offers an unpretentious way into authentic village life. Picture mornings that begin with a walk to the centre, with open countryside never far from view of everyday life.

The land extends to 671 m² in a neat rectangular shape. Its sloping surface gives it natural character, and its residential zoning opens the way to a home of your own, designed around the lie of the land.

Restaurants, cafés, supermarkets and shops are a short drive away, along with a petrol station and a public service office. The neighbouring villages of Agios Theodoros Tillirias and Pano Pyrgos are close by. Further afield, Pomos Reservoir and Gialia Monastery make easy outings, and the Cyprus Mouflon Enclosure sits within the wider region, a reminder of the landscape-led setting this corner of the island enjoys.

Above all, this is residential land rooted in a community with a strong local identity, where a new home can settle into the slower pace of Pigenia village life.
