For Sale : € 20,500

Description
Some homes come with a story, and this one has been part of village life since around 1925. Set right beside the historic Timios Stavros church, this two-bedroom Cyprus house for sale in Pelendri places you at the heart of a hill village with real mountain character.

Inside, 66 m² of living space holds two bedrooms and a bathroom, an unpretentious layout that keeps everyday life simple. The house sits on flat ground with direct road access, which makes coming and going easy in a village of old streets.

Step outside and restaurants and cafés are right on your doorstep, with schools within walking distance. Neighbouring villages such as Potamitissa and Dymes are a short drive away, and so are the forest trails of Troodos National Forest Park, so weekends among the pines are never far off. Shops, medical services and main roads are a drive away when needed.

This sale is for a two-thirds share of the property. What stays with you is the setting: a characterful home in Pelendri, sharing its corner of the village with one of the area's most treasured heritage sites.
