Description
This agricultural field in Psathi sits in open countryside, a short drive from the village centre and the neighbouring villages of Agios Dimitrianos and Polemi. It covers 12,710 m² and has an irregular shape on sloping ground. The field is reached by road.

The land is zoned for agricultural use, so it suits farming or planting. It could also be a practical addition to an existing rural holding in the Paphos district. A petrol station is close by, and the Limassol - Paphos Motorway and its junctions are within a reasonable drive. This is a generous, versatile piece of farmland.
