For Sale : € 10,000

Description
Pine-covered slopes on one side and village life on the other: this residential field for sale in Amiantos sits right next to Troodos National Forest Park, while the village centre is within walking distance. It is a landscape-led setting, well away from dense urban development, with a strong local identity and a closer connection to nature.

The land is zoned for residential use, so it suits anyone picturing a home in the hills. It has direct road access, and its natural, uneven ground follows the character of the mountain countryside around it. Schools, supermarkets, cafés, restaurants, pharmacies and petrol stations are all a short drive away, as are neighbouring villages such as Pelendri. The main roads are a little further on, so daily errands stay simple.

Life here offers a slower pace and authentic Cypriot village life, with the forest literally on the doorstep. This sale is for a one-fifth share of the field. Few settings bring the village and the Troodos forest this close together.
