Description
Set in an open countryside setting a short drive from the village centre, this agricultural field offers 3345 m² of rural land in Koilani. It is a straightforward holding for farming or planting under its agricultural zoning, within the Limassol wine-village area, with neighbouring Pera Pedi also a short drive away. The land has an irregular shape and uneven ground, and it has no direct road access. Petrol stations and the main roads are within easy reach of the village. This Koilani field is a versatile piece of land for cultivation or for holding over the long term.
