Description
Set in open countryside a short drive from the village centre, this agricultural field in Pelendri covers 18,395 m² of farmland in the Limassol district. Its ground is inclined and its outline irregular, giving a versatile piece of land for farming or planting. The surroundings are rural and landscape-led, away from dense urban development. The villages of Potamitissa and Dymes are a short drive away, as are petrol stations, and the main road network is within a drive. This sale is for a one-eleventh share of the field. It is a straightforward parcel of sloping agricultural land in the countryside of the Limassol district.
