Description
A field on the market in Sykopetra, Cyprus, set in open countryside in the Limassol district. The land covers 5686 m², with an irregular shape and a sloping surface that follows the natural lie of the ground. The village centre of Sykopetra is a short drive away, as is the neighbouring village of Odou. Main roads are within a drive, and the Nicosia–Limassol motorway lies in the wider region. The field has no direct road access. It is a sizeable piece of rural land in a setting well away from dense urban development.
