For Sale : € 140,000

Description
Cafés, restaurants and the heart of the village all lie within walking distance of this residential plot in Kakopetria. Daily life here keeps its traditional village charm, with the cooler summers in the hills that draw so many people up from the coast.

The land extends to a generous 1821 m², with a smooth surface, a southwest-facing aspect and direct road access. Its irregular outline calls for a tailored design rather than an off-the-shelf solution. With residential zoning, it offers a canvas for a home of your own, with control over layout, materials and specification from the very start.

Beyond the village, the Troodos National Forest Park and the frescoed church of Agios Nikolaos tis Stegis are a short drive away. Neighbouring Galata, parks and the main roads are close by too. A petrol station and public service offices within walking distance keep the practical side of life simple.

Here you can build your own home, steps from the life of a much-loved mountain village and with the forest park only a short drive away.
