For Sale : € 100,000

Description
Village life in Palaiometocho sets the scene for this residential field, a sizeable piece of land within the community itself. The village centre, with its everyday comings and goings, is a short drive away, so daily errands and familiar faces stay within easy reach.

Covering 3,668 m², the land has an even surface and an irregular shape. Most of it lies in a residential zone, with room for a home, while a small part is zoned for agricultural use. On level ground like this, it is easy to imagine plans for a house beginning to take form, with the village around it.

The land has no direct road access.

Beyond the village, the nature spot of Lefkovounos is a short drive away, a welcome change of scenery when the weekend comes. Level land, mostly residential and set within Palaiometocho, gives a clear starting point for the home you have in mind.
