For Sale : € 55,000

Description
Set in a quiet corner of Palaiometocho, this residential field for sale in Cyprus offers authentic village life with everyday comforts close at hand. The village centre is within walking distance, while supermarkets, schools, cafés, restaurants, pharmacies and medical centres are all a short drive away.

The land extends to a generous 2560 m², with a flat, even surface and an irregular outline that gives it a little character. A stream runs along one of its edges, adding a natural touch to the setting. Note that the parcel has no direct road access of its own.

The residential zoning points towards a home in an established village with a strong local identity. Main roads and motorway junctions are a short drive away, so Nicosia stays within easy reach, and the green spaces of Lefkovounos and Korakas are close by for walks and weekends outdoors.

For anyone drawn to Palaiometocho, this is an uncomplicated way to secure a calm, level piece of land in a well-served village, with the gentle presence of a stream along its edge.
