For Sale : € 50,000

Description
On the edge of Kokkinotrimithia, where the village meets neighbouring Paliometocho, this residential field in Cyprus offers level, regular ground in a setting that feels rooted in everyday village life. Schools sit right alongside, and supermarkets, cafés, medical centres and the village centre are all a short drive away.

The land is generous, flat and evenly shaped, the kind of uncomplicated plot that is easy to picture as the setting for a family home, in keeping with its residential zoning. Around it, the area mixes authentic Cypriot village life with practical links: the motorway junctions are close at hand, putting Nicosia and the wider district within comfortable reach.

Weekends can lean towards the outdoors, with the nature spots of Lefkovounos and Gerogiannis a short drive away, and local sports venues nearby for those who like to stay active.

This sale is for a one-third share of the field. What it offers is a straightforward piece of residential land in Kokkinotrimithia, with schools, everyday amenities and open countryside all close by.
