Everyday life sits right on the doorstep of this residential...

For Sale : € 136,000

Description
Everyday life sits right on the doorstep of this residential field in Agios Georgios, Latsia, an established suburb with a real neighbourhood feel. Schools, supermarkets, cafés, a pharmacy and local public offices are all within walking distance, so the daily routine stays simple and close to home. The land is level and generous, with direct road access, and its residential zoning points naturally towards a family home in a setting where so much is already at hand. Beyond the neighbourhood, the wider area is just as practical. The Nicosia–Limassol Motorway and its junctions are a short drive away, as are Strovolos, Nicosia General Hospital, parks, sports venues and a bus station. Getting across the capital or down to the coast is straightforward, while home stays firmly rooted in Latsia's residential streets. This sale is for a one-third share of the field. What remains is a rare kind of balance: open, level residential land with the comforts of town life all around it.
