For Sale : € 12,000

Description
Close to the village centre of Deneia, with the community stadium just nearby, this residential field sits within easy reach of local village life in the Nicosia district. It is a setting where the community is never far away. The land is a tidy rectangle with an even surface. It runs alongside a public road on one side, which gives it direct road access and a generous frontage. At 5,352 m² in total, it is a sizeable stretch of ground, and its residential zoning points to its general use as a place for homes. A level, well-shaped field close to the heart of a Nicosia village has a simple appeal: the ground is easy to read and the village is close at hand. The sale is for a 1/12 share of the field. What stays in the mind is the location, close to the centre of Deneia, on level residential land with its own road frontage.
