Description
This agricultural field in Palaiometocho covers 3271 m² of even ground in an open countryside setting. The surrounding area is known for its natural surroundings, away from dense development. The land is zoned for agricultural use, suited to farming and animal breeding. Its level surface makes cultivation and day-to-day work on the land straightforward, though its shape is irregular.

The village centre and neighbouring Agioi Trimithias are a short drive away. The field has no direct road access. It is a versatile piece of land, offering 3271 m² of even, workable ground within the Palaiometocho area.
