Description
An agricultural field of 3,691 m² lies in an open countryside setting within Palaiometocho, a village in the Nicosia District, with neighbouring Agioi Trimithias close by. The ground is even, which suits cultivation, and the field has an irregular shape. The village centre, petrol stations and the motorway network are a short drive from the area. The field is landlocked and has no direct road access. This sale is for a one-third share of the land. It is a level, versatile piece of farmland in the Palaiometocho countryside.
