Description
A small agricultural field in Korakou, set in open countryside a short drive from the village centre. At 558 m², this is a manageable piece of farmland for planting or cultivation, on gently sloping ground with an irregular shape that follows the lie of the land. It is reached by an existing road.

The neighbouring villages of Evrychou and Flasou are a short drive away, as are the main roads and petrol stations. This is an uncomplicated piece of agricultural land in the Korakou countryside, ready for cultivation.
