Description
Kynousa, a village in the Paphos district, sets the scene for this residential field of 2,100 m². It is a place with its own local character, and its residential zoning offers a clear and simple promise: room for a home of your own in village surroundings.

The land gives you a sizeable canvas to shape around the way you want to live. You can plan where the house should sit, how it should open to the land around it, and how your days might unfold in a village setting within the wider Paphos countryside.

The natural setting of Argaka is a short drive away, and so is the neighbouring village of Makounta, so time outdoors and village life are close at hand. Here is a sizeable residential plot in Kynousa, ready for the home you have been picturing.
