Description
Authentic Cypriot village life sets the tone for this field in Dierona, a small Limassol community where the pace is slower and the local identity runs deep. At 475 m², the plot is a manageable, uncomplicated size, and its residential zoning opens the way to a home of your own in these village surroundings. Picture mornings among village neighbours, with fields and open landscape close at hand, far from dense urban development. Neighbouring Arakapas and Prastio Kellakiou are a short drive away, as are restaurants, cafés, parks and green spaces. A supermarket, a school and a sports venue are within a drive, and the Transfiguration of the Saviour Church brings a touch of local heritage to the area. Main roads are close by, and the Nicosia–Limassol motorway keeps the city and the coast within easy reach. Here is a modest plot of residential land in Dierona, rooted in a setting with real character and a closer connection to nature.
