For Sale : € 2,000

Description
Village life in the Larnaca countryside sets the tone for this residential field in Troulloi, a community rooted in a strong local identity. The village centre is close by, as is the local sports ground, so everyday community life is never far away.

The land itself is refreshingly uncomplicated. It has a regular shape and an even surface, which makes it simple to picture and easy to plan around, and it benefits from direct road access. Its residential zoning points to its natural use: a home set within the setting of a traditional Cypriot village.

Troulloi offers the authentic side of Cyprus, an alternative to busier towns and resort areas, while remaining part of the wider Larnaca district. Here, a slower pace and a close-knit community form the backdrop to whatever you have in mind for the land.

This sale is for a one-ninth share of the field.

Level, well-shaped and connected by road, this is honest residential land in a setting with genuine village character.
