Description
A sizeable agricultural field in Pissouri, covering 20,402 m² of open countryside in the Limassol district. The ground is uneven and the shape irregular, in a natural setting away from dense urban development.

The agricultural zoning makes it suited to farming and planting. Pissouri village centre is a short drive away, as is the Limassol–Paphos motorway with its junctions, linking the area with both towns. It offers a generous expanse of farmland in the Cypriot countryside, with plenty of space to work the land.
