For Sale : € 1,200

Description
Authentic Cypriot village life sits right on the doorstep of this residential field in Lysos, a hill village in the Paphos countryside where the local shops, cafés and public offices are all within walking distance. It is a setting with a strong local identity, far from dense resort development.

The land is level and gently elongated in shape, zoned for residential use, which makes it a natural canvas for a village home. Around it, the landscape opens out towards neighbouring Meladeia and Peristerona, both a short drive away, with parks, green spaces and the calm waters of Evretou Lake close by for weekend walks.

Further afield, the heritage sites of Gialia Monastery and Panagia Evangelistria Church add a sense of history to the area, while main roads, a petrol station and a bus station are a drive away for everyday errands. This sale is for a one-seventh share of the land.

A slower pace, a close-knit community and the everyday rhythm of a living village, all within easy walking reach.
