For Sale : € 44,000

Description
Authentic Cypriot village life sets the tone for this residential field for sale in Astromeritis, Cyprus. The land sits within the community, with schools within walking distance and the village centre only a short drive away.

The field covers 5017 m² of flat ground. Its residential zoning points to a home in a setting with a strong local identity, away from dense urban development. Everyday needs are well covered: supermarkets and shops, restaurants and cafés, public service offices and petrol stations are all a short drive away. The neighbouring villages of Peristerona and Potami are also close by, and motorway junctions in the wider region link the area to the rest of the island.

Astromeritis offers a slower pace and a close-knit community, with the convenience of local services close at hand. This sale is for a half share of the land.

Level residential land in a welcoming village, with schools close by and the authentic side of Cyprus all around.
