The plot features a regular rectangular shape and a frontage of approximately 18 metres, offering flexibility for architectural planning and the potential development of a spacious private residence or another residential project, subject to the necessary planning approvals.
An important characteristic of the property is that it benefits from a right of way, providing an access arrangement to the land. The exact route, width and legal terms of the right of way should be verified through the relevant title deed and cadastral documentation. The property is currently under subdivision, making it important for prospective purchasers to verify the completion of the subdivision process, the final plot boundaries and the issuance of a separate title deed.

Based on the total area of 585 m², the building density coefficient corresponds to a theoretical maximum buildable floor area of approximately 468 m², while the coverage ratio corresponds to a theoretical maximum ground coverage of approximately 263.25 m². These calculations are indicative and remain subject to applicable planning regulations, development restrictions, subdivision requirements and necessary approvals.
The property's rectangular shape, 18-metre frontage and generous land area offer interesting possibilities for functional architectural design and efficient use of the available space.
Located in the wider Geri area, the property offers access to residential neighbourhoods, schools, supermarkets, shops, pharmacies and essential everyday services.
Important points of interest in the wider area include Geri Village Centre | University of Cyprus | Athalassa National Forest Park | Latsia | Nicosia General Hospital.
Combining its 585 m² land area, rectangular shape, 18-metre frontage, 80% building density, 45% coverage ratio and right of way, this plot represents an attractive opportunity for individuals and investors seeking residential land with future development potential in Geri, subject to completion of the subdivision process and confirmation of the applicable planning and access arrangements.
